The Spectral Seller,[1] also known as the Shopkeeper,[2][3] is a character in Tunic. They sell merchandise to the player at the shop.

Appearance

The Spectral Seller is a large floating purple skeletal creature with glowing purple eyes. Their head has an animalistic shape, with pointed ears, and their lower jaw is missing.

Personality

The Spectral Seller patiently watches the fox wherever they wander within the shop, and the Seller's hand tips float close to each other, as if expectant of the fox to buy something. The Spectral Seller is appreciative of the fox spending money at the shop, politely bowing whenever the fox purchases one of their goods.
Shop

Adventurers beware, there are no ways to obtain unlimited quantities of Ice Bombs or Hot Peppers on a single playthrough, as the Spectral Seller does not sell them, making them a limited resource.
